UNM CELEBRATES HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH 2023

A NOTE FROM FM DIRECTOR

The Facilities Management (FM) department is excited to celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month 2023, honoring the rich cultural heritage, contributions, and achievements of Hispanic Americans.

Beginning in 1968, Hispanic Heritage Month (HHM) was established to acknowledge the history, culture, and contributions of Hispanic Americans. Originally established as a one-month observance from September 15 to October 15 as “Hispanic American Heritage Month,” it was subsequently extended to a full month due to public support.

HHM has been celebrated annually since 1988, and it is observed as a national observance lasting from September 15 to October 15. This year, Hispanic Heritage Month is celebrated from September 15, 2023, to October 15, 2023.

During this month, UNM will be showcasing the many contributions and achievements of Hispanic Americans through various events, programs, and initiatives. We encourage all members of the UNM community to participate in these activities and to reflect on the significance of this month for Hispanic heritage.

Please join us in celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month and recognizing the contributions of Hispanic Americans to our society.

Regards,
