Well . . . probably. answers. That way, we can honestly have a genuine conversation where we share ideas and even tougher to comprehend. But on this podcast, we aim to bring in experts, artists, and researchers. The University of New Mexico podcast 'S (Probably) Not Rocket Science is available streaming on Spotify, Apple Podcasts, and other podcast platforms. For more information, please visit unmpodcast.com.

Contact Joanne Baca de Holguin at (505) 925 9516 or ruckerk@unm.edu. Participants received a valid driver's license and a UNM Defensive Driving certificate or be willing to participate in rest areas for a comfortable experience. To be eligible, drivers must have a valid license. Volunteer drivers are still needed for Support and Gear (SAG) drivers or Rest Stop drivers. SAG drivers ensure participant safety and provide support along the cycling routes. To participate, please visit the event page and fill out the volunteer form.

The United Way Fundraiser is in full swing! As of today, there are only 42 remaining spots available. Please make your donation by September 30 to qualify. Show your support for one of our own, Team Captain Denise L. Volunteer drivers are still needed for Support and Gear (SAG) drivers or Rest Stop drivers. SAG drivers ensure participant safety and provide support along the cycling routes. To participate, please visit the event page and fill out the volunteer form.

The University Libraries unveils captivating mural at Centennial Library in team research across campus. Learn more about the event and decide if you want to volunteer. The mural is visible from inside the library and from the outside through the windows. The mural is a beautiful tribute to the history of the University of New Mexico and its contributions to the community.

The University Libraries recently announced the grand unveiling of an exquisite mural that adorns the Centennial Science and Engineering Library. The mural is a significant addition to the library's collection and is available to view during regular library hours.

The University of New Mexico Art Museum (UNMAM) has installed the next collection in its permanent collection exhibition series. UNMAM has teamed up with the University of New Mexico Art Department and the University of New Mexico Art History Department to bring new faces to the Art Museum. The new collection features artwork from a variety of artists and is designed to complement the curricula of UNM and its partner universities.

This month, students can participate in a lifeline event by participating in a safety meeting or participating in a safety training. Participating in a safety meeting is required for all UNM employees and is a great opportunity to learn about safety practices and procedures. Participating in a safety training is a great opportunity to learn more about safety practices and procedures and how they can be applied to your work or personal life.

The University of New Mexico announces newest Level 2 Grand Challenges Day and the Team Research Symposium. After a highly competitive process, University of New Mexico President John Floros named the team to join the Grand Challenges program as Level 2 teams. The team has teamed up with UNM's Center for Environmentally Friendly Energy (CEFEE) to bring new faces to the Grand Challenges program. The team will work on a project that complements the curricula of UNM and its partner universities.

The University of New Mexico Art Museum (UNMAM) has installed the next collection in its permanent collection exhibition series. UNMAM has teamed up with the University of New Mexico Art Department and the University of New Mexico Art History Department to bring new faces to the Art Museum. The new collection features artwork from a variety of artists and is designed to complement the curricula of UNM and its partner universities.

University Libraries unveils captivating mural at Centennial Library in team research across campus. Learn more about the event and decide if you want to volunteer. The mural is visible from inside the library and from the outside through the windows. The mural is a beautiful tribute to the history of the University of New Mexico and its contributions to the community.

The University Libraries recently announced the grand unveiling of an exquisite mural that adorns the Centennial Science and Engineering Library. The mural is a significant addition to the library's collection and is available to view during regular library hours.